

LL.M. GRADING POLICY ELECTION

The LL.M. grading policy election form allows LL.M. students to elect the Honors/Pass/Fail scale, rather than a letter-grade scale, in any semester, and should be given careful consideration prior to signing. The election of H/P/F, once made, is irrevocable. Note; a new LL.M. Grading Policy Election form must be submitted to the Law School Registrar for each academic semester you elect the H/P/F scale. Please review the following policy guidelines prior to signing and submitting the form.

LAW SCHOOL POLICY

LL.M. students may elect, in any semester, to be graded on an Honors/Pass/Fail scale, rather than on a letter-grade scale, for all coursework in that semester. Such an election must be made by 4:00 p.m. on the last day of Add/Drop week in that semester and, once made, is irrevocable. The option must be exercised with respect to all coursework in a semester.

LL.M. students who wish to avail themselves of the Honors/Pass/Fail grading option must communicate that intention by the end of the Add/Drop week by submitting a Grading Election form to the Law School Registrar. If a form is not submitted by the deadline, the student will be subject to the standard grading scale in all courses that semester.

Courses that are offered to all students only on a Pass/Fail basis will not award Honors grades.

Students considering this grading option should be aware that eligibility for admission to a state bar, for admission to a J.D. or other educational program, for third-party funding, or for other programs may be affected by the number of courses taken for other than a letter grade.
